

“The literary arts inspire, enrich, and educate. They remind us that there is beauty and joy in language, that others have insights worth paying attention to, that in our struggles we are not alone.” –National Endowment for the Arts

WRITERS & BOOKS' VIRTUAL LITERARY CONFERENCE

Taking Care in Writing, Publishing & Building Community

January 21 – 23, 2022

As COVID sweeps across the planet and through our lives, we continue to confront our vulnerabilities, both public and private. Hard truths about our nation are in sharp focus. How do we carve out purpose, chart a meaningful course, through troubling times that don't seem to end?

Taking care of ourselves and others is one answer, and it can take many forms.

We hope you agree that engaging with and making art are transformational experiences that can offer solace, release, self-knowledge, and solidarity. It is in this spirit that you're invited to join us as a sponsor for Taking Care in Writing, Publishing & Building Community, Writers & Books' three-day virtual conference.

For more on our 65 featured authors, poets, publishing industry experts, and full conference schedule, kindly visit <https://wab.org/literary-conference>.

Please consider supporting Writers & Books by becoming a Conference Sponsor. Thank you!

Our Mission

Writers & Books promotes reading and writing as lifelong activities for people of all ages and backgrounds to enrich their lives and the intellectual, social, and cultural vibrancy of their communities.

Our Values

We believe in the power and importance of the written word; in celebrating the written word as a tool for communication and an art form; that storytelling is a vital aspect of the human experience that unites humanity; that reading builds empathy and brings people together; and in creating a safe space for voices of all backgrounds, beliefs, origins, and abilities.

Our Vision

To be a leading resource that celebrates diverse voices and fosters thriving communities of readers and writers.
